★ Challenges

1. Families do not allow children to study because of household work, and children are married off early and forbidden to study due to concerns about who will do the household work.

2. The school is far away, which discourages girls from attending.

★ Solutions

1. Encouraging girls to study together in a nearby location if they are unable to attend school, and helping each other with their studies, especially in subjects like Maths where some students may have strengths.
